ALBUQUERQUE MEDIA ADVISORY

NEW REPORT IDENTIFIES NEW MEXICO’S TOP 25 TRANSPORTATION CHALLENGES AND NEEDED SOLUTIONS

A new report that identifies New Mexico’s 25 most pressing transportation challenges and the fixes needed to address them will be released at a news conference in Albuquerque at noon on Tuesday, January 24. The report is being released by TRIP, a national nonprofit transportation research group based in Washington, DC.

The report, “New Mexico’s Top 25 Transportation Challenges and the Improvements Needed to Address Them,” identifies and ranks segments of the state’s roadway, bridge and transit system that present the largest challenges to the state because of congestion, deterioration or a lack of some desirable safety features.

Carolyn Bonifas Kelly, TRIP’s associate director of research and communication, will present the findings of the report at the news conference. Local speakers will be on hand to comment on the report.
